Get Vaccinated against the Flu

- All enrolled Veterans are encouraged to be vaccinated against the flu.
- All VISN 23 VA facilities are expected to have ample supply of flu vaccine this flu season.

Final shipment of flu vaccine is scheduled to be delivered to local facilities by November 30 or sooner.

Protect yourself, your family, and those around you:
- Get vaccinated against flu.
- Know the symptoms of flu.
- Cover your cough and sneezes.
- Clean your hands.
- Avoid touching your eyes, nose, and mouth.
- Clean and disinfect shared surfaces like faucets, light switches, and handles on doors and cabinets often.
- Don’t enter the home of a sick person, if you are not needed for the person’s care or support.
- Avoid getting too close to a sick person. When possible, remain at least three feet away.

For more information call the VISN 23 toll free “Flu information and Education Line” at 1-888-686-0479

Today, we stand tall as a nation because the men and women of our armed forces are resolved to bring peace to a troubled world. Today, we open our doors to their homecoming, and we console the families of our countrymen who will never again hear the chimes of freedom ringing out on Veterans Day. On this Veterans Day let us celebrate the humble men and women who understand the call of duty, the meaning of honor and values of this nation. We thank the families and friends of those who support our brothers and sisters when they serve and we extend our personal gratitude to each and every one of you - for remembering that those who serve do not do so for glory, or power, or wealth. They serve to preserve our way of life. We thank them for their service – past and present, and we honor them with our commitment to serve and by always remembering the sacrifices made.
HBO Documentary WARTORN to air on November 11

Local VA medical centers are preparing to respond to inquiries following the airing of the HBO documentary, WARTORN 1861-2010. The featured special, scheduled to air on November 11, brings urgent attention to the invisible wounds of war. Producers report on personal stories of American soldiers whose lives and psyches were torn asunder by the horrors of battle and PTSD. The documentary chronicles the lingering effects of combat stress and post-traumatic stress on military personnel and their families throughout American history, from the Civil War through today’s conflicts in Iraq and Afghanistan. The film is very powerful and portrays how paralyzing and life-shattering PTSD can be. It does not, however, discuss treatments or hope for recovery. This is where we come in. We are preparing for increased inquiries and want to be sure you have information needed to assist Veterans who may contact you as a result of the documentary. Information on symptoms of PTSD, available treatment options, and a lists of contacts Veterans or advocates can call is posted on all of our VA medical center websites. PTSD: There is hope. VA can help. Visit our PTSD Page at www.visn23.va.gov for more information

VA Mental Health Resources Available on My HealtheVet

Considering Professional Help is an online tool using real experiences from Veterans. There are five common concerns that may stop Veterans from getting help for their mental health. This tool helps Veterans identify concerns. It provides new ways of thinking. This tool shows Veterans and families what to look for and where to find help. They will learn the benefits of getting mental health support from doctors, social workers, mental health staff, clergy, or other counselors. Responses are confidential. You do not need to be registered with My HealtheVet to use this tool. To access this tool, go to the Mental Health section of My HealtheVet.

The Veterans Health Administration (VHA) administers the largest integrated mental health care system in the United States. Veterans can access a wide range of mental health services through residential treatment programs, integrated primary care clinics, community-based outpatient clinics, and Vet Centers. If you are interested in learning more about the common mental health issues facing Veterans and their families, and the various programs and services that VA offers to help address them, please visit www.mentalhealth.va.gov.

My HealtheVet In-Person Authentication (IPA) Process

Join the many Veterans who have an upgraded My HealtheVet account. All it takes is completion of an In-Person Authentication (IPA) process. As a security measure, IPA is a process used to verify a My HealtheVet user’s identity. This Upgraded Account allows VA patients to:

- Order VA refill medications by their medication names – not just the Rx numbers
- View your personalized VA Wellness Reminders
- Participate in Secure Messaging to allow patients to communicate with their health care team through My HealtheVet when available

Before In Person Authentication can occur, several requirements must be met:

- The user needs to be marked as a VA Patient when registering in My HealtheVet

!Relationship to the VA

- The user needs to view one of the four My HealtheVet Videos (either the 4 or 8 minute version)
- The user will need to read and sign the VA Release Form (PDF)
- The user will need to present a form of government issued photo identification to a qualified VA staff member at their VA facility to be physically proofed.
Serving Those Returning From Combat

The Network takes a proactive approach on outreach to returning service members. As of September 30, 2010, the Network enrolled a total of 42,398 returning service members. Of those, 24,576 received outpatient services; 1,007 were treated as inpatients; and 16,815 chose to enroll only. If you would like to discuss ideas on how we can better serve those returning from combat, please contact the OEF/OIF Coordinator at your local VA Medical Center. The following tables show the number of Combat Veterans enrolled in this Network and where they are receiving care.
